

Lab coat

Lab coat

Many people think that pathologists only work in labs or mortuaries but that's not the case. Many pathologists work in clinics and hospital wards, taking direct care of patients. Even those who work in labs don't spend all day there – they are vital members of multi-disciplinary teams of doctors and nurses who work together to ensure that every patient gets the best possible care.

Our Events

- NPY Event Registration Form
- Events by Month
- Events by location
- Promotional Materials Request Form
- Pathology in Focus: Photography Competition